SELLING RESTRICTION	See further "Selling Restrictions" below.

Transactions are complex and may involve a high risk of loss. Prior to purchasing the Notes you should consult with your own legal, regulatory, tax, financial and accounting advisors to the extent you consider it necessary, and make your own investment, hedging and trading decisions (including decisions regarding the suitability of this transaction) based upon your own judgment and advice from those advisers you consider necessary. Save as otherwise expressly agreed in writing, the Issuer is not acting as your financial adviser or fiduciary with respect to your purchase of the Notes. This document is for information purposes only and should not be construed as an offer, personal recommendation or solicitation to conclude a transaction and should not be treated as giving investment advice.

Morgan Stanley & Co. International plc is not qualified to give legal, tax or accounting advice to its clients and does not purport to do so in this document. Clients are urged to seek the advice of their own professional advisers about the consequences of the proposals contained herein.

Key Risk Factors

Investments in the Notes involve a number of risks and there can be no assurance that the full (or any) amount invested in the Notes will be returned.

Prior to entering into a transaction you should consult with your own legal, regulatory, tax, financial and accounting advisors to the extent you consider it necessary, and make your own investment, hedging and trading decisions (including decisions regarding the suitability of this transaction) based upon your own judgement and advice from those advisers you consider necessary. Save as otherwise expressly agreed in writing, the Issuer is not acting as your financial adviser or fiduciary with respect to your purchase of the Notes. This document is for information purposes only and should not be construed as an offer, personal recommendation or solicitation to conclude a transaction and should not be treated as giving investment advice.

Please see the Offering Circular together with the Pricing Supplement for a full detailed description of the Notes and in particular, please review the Risk Factors associated with the Notes. This section highlights some of those risks, but is not a complete list of the risks inherent in a Note investment.

Not a time deposit: The Note is NOT equivalent to, nor should it be treated as a substitute for, time deposit. It is NOT a protected deposit and is NOT protected by the Deposit Protection Scheme in Hong Kong.

Adjustments by the Determination Agent: The terms and conditions of the Notes will allow the Determination Agent to make adjustments or take any other appropriate action if circumstances occur where the Notes or any exchanges are affected by market disruption, adjustment events or circumstances affecting normal activities. In such circumstances, the Determination Agent can determine whether to redeem the Notes early, or adjust the terms of the Notes. Potential investors should see the Offering Circular for a detailed description of potential adjustment events and adjustments.

Issue Model-based Redemption Risk: In accordance with Condition 16.6 (Model-based Redemption), if Model-based Redemption is specified in the relevant Issue Terms as being applicable, the Issuer must redeem the Notes in whole on any Model-based Redemption Date (Call) at the relevant Model-based Redemption Amount (Call) if the output of a proprietary valuation model indicates, on a Model-based Redemption Determination Date (Call), that redeeming the Notes at the relevant Model-based Redemption Date (Call) is economically more rational for the Issuer than not so redeeming the Notes. The valuation model is a Morgan Stanley Group proprietary valuation model. It takes into account market data as relevant for the definition of the amount payable by the Issuer under the terms of the Notes, in particular (i) reference market levels and volatilities for the relevant underlying assets, including forward looking predictions of their curves; (ii) valuations of the correlation of the underlying assets; (iii) any relevant currency exchange rate and (iv) the Issuer's (and the Guarantor's, if applicable) credit spreads at the Trade Date. The output of such valuation model is not public and therefore it may be difficult for investors to anticipate whether or not the Notes will be redeemed at the relevant Model-based Redemption Date (Call).

Following the redemption of the Notes in accordance with Condition 16.6 (Model-based Redemption), the investors will be entitled to receive a pre-determined amount which may be less than the amount that the investors would have been entitled to receive under the terms of the Notes if Model-based Redemption had not taken place. In any case, such amount shall be not less than Par, unless otherwise specified in the Issue Terms.

It is likely that the Notes will be redeemed based on a Model-based Redemption condition at a time in which the termination of the Notes is least favourable for the investors. Any such determination shall be made without taking into account the interests of the investors. The occurrence of a Model-based Redemption therefore can limit the possibility for investors to realise in full the returns expected from the Notes if they had continued until their scheduled Maturity Date.

The Determination Agent maintains discretion, which shall be exercised in good faith, in the interpretation of the outputs of the Valuation Model and on the date on and time at which such outputs are observed, provided that such date and time shall be no earlier than three (3) Business Days before and no later than a Model-based Redemption Determination Cut-off Date (Call), and therefore with respect to the final decision to redeem the Notes.

If the Notes are early redeemed following a Model-based Redemption, investors will no longer be able to participate in the performance of the reference asset.

If the Notes are early redeemed following a Model-based Redemption, investors generally might not be able to reinvest the redemption amount of the Notes in the same market environment as was available at the time in which they invested in the Notes and they might be unable to reinvest at a comparable rate of return. Investors should consider reinvestment risk in light of other investments available at the time of their investment decision.

Credit Risk: The holder of the Note will be exposed to the credit risk of the Issuer and the Guarantor. The Notes are essentially a loan to the Issuer that the Issuer and the Guarantor promise to pay to you at maturity. There is the risk, however, that the Issuer and the Guarantor may not be able to fulfil its promise to you. If any companies in the Morgan Stanley group incur losses with respect to any of their activities, this may have a negative impact on the financial condition of the Issuer and the Guarantor. You may lose all or part of your investment if the Issuer and the Guarantor are unable to pay the redemption amount and/or go into liquidation. No assets of the Issuer are segregated and specifically set aside in order to pay the holders of the Notes in the event of liquidation of the Issuer or the Guarantor, and the holders of the Notes will rank behind creditors who have priority rights over certain assets of the Issuer or the Guarantor.

Market Risk: The Notes are denominated, and all payments will be made, in GBP. There are risks inherent in investments in notes denominated and payable in GBP for investors whose home and/or functional currency is not GBP. You should consult your financial, legal and tax advisers as to any specific risks entailed by an investment in notes that are denominated and payable in a currency other than the currency of the country in which you are resident or in which you conduct your business. We refer to such country as your “home country” and to the currency of your home country as your “home currency”.

Exit Risk: The secondary market price of the Note will depend on numerous factors including interest rates, interest rate volatility, perceptions of issuer’s credit quality and time remaining to maturity. Depending on the actual or anticipated level of any of the above, the market value of the notes may decrease and you may receive substantially less than 100% of the issue price if you sell your notes prior to maturity.

Early Redemption of the Notes for taxation reasons: Under the terms of the Notes, the Issuer is also entitled to early redeem the Notes if the Issuer is required to deduct or withhold any taxes as more particularly set out in the Conditions relating to the Notes. In such circumstances, investors may receive an amount which is less than the principal amount of the Notes.

Reinvestment risk: If the Notes are early redeemed in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Notes, investors should note when he/she reinvests the proceeds into another product or instrument, the terms of such product or instrument may not be as favourable as those of the Notes.

Lack of Liquidity: The Notes should be viewed as longer-term investments, not as liquid instruments. There can be no assurance that there will be any secondary market for the Notes. Morgan Stanley is not obliged to make a secondary market in the Notes. When Morgan Stanley purchases Notes, the bid/offer spread in most cases may be wider than plain vanilla corporate, supranational or agency bonds.

Certain Conflicts of Interest: With respect of the Notes, various potential and actual conflicts of interest may arise. Morgan Stanley & Co. International plc and others associated with it may have positions in, and may effect transactions in, securities and instruments of issuers mentioned herein and may also perform or seek to perform investments banking services for the issuers of such securities and instruments. In addition, Morgan Stanley & Co. International plc and others associated with it are involved in the structure relating to the Notes at various levels and various conflicts of interest may arise as a result of the roles each undertakes in the structure as well as from the overall activities of the Morgan Stanley & Co. International plc. The Determination Agent is an affiliate of the Issuer, and the economic interests of the Determination Agent may be adverse to the interests of the Noteholders. Determinations made by the Determination Agent may affect the amounts payable to the Noteholder.

Tax Considerations: Special tax considerations may apply to certain types of taxpayers. Prospective investors are urged to consult with their own tax advisors to determine any tax implications of this investment. A Non-U.S. holder will be subject to U.S. withholding tax unless the beneficial owner of the note (or a financial institution holding the note on behalf of the beneficial owner) furnishes the appropriate Form W-8, on which the beneficial owner certifies under penalties of perjury that it is not a U.S. person. If withholding or deduction of taxes is required by law (regardless of whether a holder furnished an appropriate form), payments on the notes will be made net of applicable withholding taxes, and Morgan Stanley will not be required to pay any additional amounts to Non-U.S. holders with respect to any taxes withheld.

Accounting Considerations: Special accounting considerations may apply to certain types of investors. Prospective investors are urged to consult with their own accounting advisors to determine implications of this investment. Morgan Stanley may distribute these notes at a price other than the issue price.
